

PreCycle Innovation Challenge 2023 Sponsorship Opportunities

ABOUT

The PreCycle Innovation Challenge is an annual circular innovation bootcamp and competition hosted by Zero Waste Washington and Seattle Good Business Network that was created to move Washington forward as a leader in waste prevention and reduction, funded in part by the WA State Department of Ecology. This competition is open to regional early-stage startups that are working to advance Washington's circular, regenerative, and just economy.

Teams and individuals compete in two tracks, ideation and development, based on the advancement of their project. The 6-week program includes educational and hands-on workshops, mentorship, 1-on-1 assistance, and resources. The program culminates in a day-long Innovation Summit showcasing existing regional circular innovation initiatives from around the state along with pitches from the finalist teams. Winners receive cash prizes while all teams are offered continuing assistance to support the success of their circular projects.
